Hello!

How are things going? I'm back home again after a very enjoyable stay in Spain. It's wonderful seeing my Mother again. Her spirits were pretty low but she's happier now.

I'm going to take the civil service test week after next and then with my rating try and get some type of work with the government. I came home flat broke and my Mother's been too generous so I'd like to get something together.

The social scene (race, economy etc) is pretty depressing here, much less the foreign one. I hope your work is coming along well without too many setbacks. Is it?

My best to you— Cindy
